1	Objectives and principles
2	A. Scope, structure, terminology, etc.
3	Objectives:
4	Comprehensiveness
5	rules still too tied to print/published resources; not enough attention to multi-format collections						1A, p. 13
6	rules insufficient for most archival collections; need more references to RAD, DACS, etc.	-	-	-	-	-	LC to do rule revision proposal
7	delete rules from AACR2 chapter 4; replace with rules from RAD, DACS, etc.	-	-	-	-	-	LC to do rule revision proposal
8	Consistency
9	level of treatment for archival collections needs to be consistent with level of treatment for published resources	-	-	-	-	-	LC to do rule revision proposal
10	need for consistency in identifying all optional rules		1A: p. 4
11	Clarity
12	use direct style, "plain English"			p. 1			1A: p. 8
13	rules need to be introduced and presented in simpler language; less reliance on understanding technical meaning of terms and glossary definitions					p. 1
14	summarize essentials of rule before presenting detail						1A: p. 8
15	use more lists, tables, etc.			p.1			1A: p. 8
16	harmonize library terminology with archival terminology, etc.						1A: p. 8
17	Rationality
18	add a "purpose" section for each information element						1A: p. 8
19	question varying instructions re language of cataloguer's interpolations		1A: p. 4
20	propose record cataloguer's interpolations in language of cataloguing agency						2A: p. 15
21	Currency
22	need to eliminate library jargon and model presentation and terminology on current metadata standards used in other communities		1A: p. 4				1A: p. 9

23	need more aggressive changes that respond to web catalogues and future capabilities						p. 1
24	delete rules from AACR2 chapter 4; replace with rules from RAD, DACS, etc.	-	-	-	-	-	LC to do rule revision proposal
25	delete rules for obsolete materials						pp. 3-4; 1A: p. 9
26	Compatibility
27	cite complementary content standards; enable linking						p. 2; 1A: p. 10
28	allow options for normalizing punctuation, abbreviations, capitalization, measurements, etc.						p. 3; 1A: p. 10; 17: p. 45
29	develop a crosswalk to MARC						1A: p. 10
30	reconsider use of non-metric vs. metric conventions for representative fractions used in statements of scale			2B: p. 8
31	Adaptability
32	highlight need for adaptability to new and emerging technologies and formats		1A: p. 5
33	clarify intended meaning of "user communities"		1A: p. 5
34	adaptability constrained by complexity of rules; simplify						1A: p. 11
35	Ease and efficiency of use
36	present rules in a language easily understood by cataloguing staff at all levels as well as other potential users						p. 2
37	use more natural language and presentations that facilitate comprehension (e.g., tables)						1A: p. 13
38	include more examples using images (reproductions of title pages, screen shots of OPACS, etc.)					p. 1
39	reduce rules to essentials; mark rules to facilitate display of a subset of "concise" rules in online format						p. 2; see 5JSC/LC/2 as example
40	need some form of outline "practitioner's" view of the rules [issue for publishers not Editor]					p. 1
41	provide an AACR2-AACR3 concordance and list of major changes					p. 1	p. 2; 17: p. 46; Attachment 2

46	need to address accessibility for persons with disabilities [issue for publishers not Editor]					1A: p. 3
47
48	Principles:
49	Specificity
50	supplement general rules with specific detailed guidelines derived from DCRBM, DACS, RAD, CONSER, etc.						p. 1
51	add references to manuals of interpretation and other specialized content standards	1A: p. 2
52	Non-redundancy
53	repetitions remain (e.g., instructions on facsimiles and reproductions, punctuation)		1A: p. 6
54	Terminology
55	avoid use of "version" if FRBR term or "resource" appropriate		1A: p. 6
56	Reference structure
57	reference structure unwieldy in print format						1A: p. 12
58	inconsistency in references back to A1.0F		1A: p. 8
59
60	B. Functional Requirements
61	Objectives:
62	Responsiveness to user needs
63	reconsider impact of removing GMDs for materials for visually impaired users	10, pp. 10-11
64	Cost efficiency
65	clarify intent of objective		1B: p. 8
66	proposed changes not sufficient to improve productivity enough to offset costs of implementation						1A: p. 13
67	added cost of measuring each map on a sheet not justified		1B: p. 8

70	harmony (i.e., compatibility with existing records and catalogues)		1B: p. 8
71
72	Principles:
73	Differentiation
74	state requirement to uniquely identify the resource described at the beginning of the rules						1B: p. 13
75	tension between manifestation-level and item-level description					1A: p. 3
76	Sufficiency
77	delete rules that instruct cataloguer to omit information (e.g., dimensions of slides)						1B: p. 13
78	Relationships
79	consider options for handling notes on relationships differently in the future						1B: p. 13
80	Representation
81	apply principle of transcribing "what you see" for titles, statements of responsibility, edition statements, imprint, series statements, and contents notes						p. 3; 1B: p. 14
82	Uniformity
83	should not require uniformity where not required to support user tasks						1B: p. 14
84	need to establish principles governing optional instructions		1B: p. 9
85	Common usage
86	difficulties related to "common usage" (e.g., inconsistency, variability over time)		1B: p. 9
87	need clarification and validation of terms used as GMDs	10: pp. 10-11
88	problematic use of "graphic" ["graphic" is not common usage for visual materials in the US]						1B: p. 14
89	distinction between physical units and components in rules on extent violate principle of common usage						2A: p. 17
